Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 19 September 2003.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

The following is a first action on the merits of application Serial No.10/667,173, filed September 19, 2003.

Information Disclosure Statement

Receipt is acknowledged of the Information Disclosure Statement filed December 22, 2003. The cited documents have been considered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-3, 11, 12, and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Janson et al.('995). The Janson et al. device discloses a variable torsional damper comprising a torque input member 22, a torque output member 26, a plurality of damping elements 140, and a magneto-rheological damper assembly 160 disposed in parallel with the damping elements to vary the hysteresis between the input member and the output member. The magneto-rheological damper assembly has an inner disk assembly 162,163 operatively supported by the input member and an outer disk assembly 182 operatively supported by the output member. A magnetic coil assembly includes a winding 190 adapted to provide a magnetic field having two magnetic poles when energized. A magneto-rheological fluid is disposed between the inner and outer disks in chamber or cavity 186. The disk assemblies have flux shaping portions 162,182 that form the magneto-rheological fluid cavity 186.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 4-10 and 13-19 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Peinemann et al.('299) is cited to show a flywheel-mass damper that is variable by use of magneto-rheological fluid. Feldhaus et al.('880) shows a variable damper using magnets (see column 7, line 32, to column 8, line 40). Smith et al.('092) and Stretch et al.(618) are cited for their showing of other magneto-rheological devices.
